

Test Cases Time Logging System

No.	Action	Reaction
1.	Employee opens the view for punch in	Check if the view is for the time registration
2.	Employee selects punch/break option, enters credentials	Check if punch option selected, check if only allow characters are in the input
3.	No punch/break option is selected	Check if input is not allowed
4.	Employee submits request for work/break time registration	Check if appropriate message is displayed (Punched In / Punched Out/To Break/ From Break / Error Message)
5.	Employee tries to enter un-valid characters as input for work/break time registration	Check if an informing error message is displayed
6.	Employee leaves the input empty	Check if an informing error message is displayed
7.	Manager opens the view for login	Check if the view is for logging in
8.	Manager enters credentials	Check if only the valid characters were allowed
9.	Manager inputs wrong credentials	Check if an informing error message is displayed
10.	Manager inputs not allowed characters	Check if an informing error message is displayed
11.	Manager leaves the inputs empty	Check if an informing error message is displayed
12.	Manager inputs a short password	Check if an informing error message is displayed
13.	Manager logs out	Check if the view is on login view
14.	Manager views all registrations	Check if the is for all registration
15.	Manager deletes a registration	Check if the registration is not displayed in the list of registration
16.	Manager edits a registration	Check if the registration was modified
17.	Manager enters wrong data for a registration	Check if an error message is displayed
18.	Manager leave the input empty	Check if an informing error message is displayed
19.	Manager registers a new Employee	Check if the new employee's information is displayed in all employee view
20.	Managers adds an employee with the same EmployeeId as an existing one	Check if an informing error message is displayed
21.	Manager leave one or more inputs empty on registration of an employee	Check if an informing error message is displayed
22.	Manager edits an employee	Check if the modified information is displayed correctly
23.	Manager deletes an employee	Check if the employee is not displayed anymore in the list of all employees
24.		